What is Easy Street?

Easy Street is a unique rehabilitation program where clients can re-learn the skills they need after a neurological injury.

Who are our clients?

Our interdisciplinary team will work with adults who has suffered an illness or injury to their brain or neurological system and requires further rehabilitation interventions to reach their potential. These illnesses or injuries may include stroke, head injury or traumatic brain injury. We also work with individuals with Long COVID. Our Occupational Therapist provides prescription and training to use power wheelchairs or scooters to support independence with community mobility.

Easy Street staff assist clients to achieve the physical, emotional and social adjustments necessary for a productive, independent life. Clients must require a team approach and may see a combination of the following: Physiotherapist, Occupational Therapist, Social Worker and/or Dietitian as needed.

Clients may be referred to other WRHA services when needed such as outpatient speech- language therapy or psychology.

What is the main purpose of rehabilitation at the Easy Street program?

A client-centered program aiming to assist our clients to reach their full potential by achieving the goals they have identified. Regaining independence in areas such as dressing, cooking, attending school or work, or participating in leisure activities are often goals our clients set for themselves.

Who can refer?

A potential client, any health-care professional, concerned friend or family member can make a referral to the Easy Street Program.

Referral forms are available on the Misericordia Health Centre website (www.misericorida.mb.ca) or by calling the Easy Street office at 204-788-8158

Is there a cost?

Therapy at Easy Street is currently covered by Manitoba Health at no cost to the client.

How often/frequently are clients seen?

How often seen and the length of treatment program varies according to client needs and progress.
